Progression Walks or Long Walks

Progression Walks or Long Walks are longer and more difficult than other health walks.

Some of the groups on the list go on long walks.

Progression walks or long walks are not health walks.

They are not good for people who are just starting to walk for exercise.

They are not for people who find walking difficult or use a wheelchair.

They are usually more than three and a half miles long.

They usually use harder routes which may include steep hills or going over stiles.

If you want to go on a progression or long walk you will need to wear strong shoes or boots that are suitable for rough ground.

You will need to wear clothing that you can move about in and that will protect you from the weather.

If you want to find out more about progression or long walks, please call your local group leader on the phone numbers in the list.
